SCIENCE CONFERENCE PROVES A SPLENDID SUCCESS

Will Probably Be Held as an Annual Event---Closing Sessions Were Noteworthy for Breadth of Subjects Treated.

Yesterday was a day full of interest to the scientists who gathered from all parts of the state to attend the meeting of the science section of the Colorado State Teachers' association at Colorado college. The meeting closed last night and so successful has it proved that the committee which had charge of the arrangements will undoubtedly report at the next meeting of the association in favor of making this spring meeting an annual affair.

Fully 200 scientists and teachers from all over the state attended yesterday's sessions. The papers, though of more or less a technical nature, were of general interest and proved of special value to the scientists as well as others who attended the various sessions.

Morning Session.

Yesterday morning's session held in Palmer hall, was devoted to papers concerning physical and geological subjects. Dean H. A. Howe of the University of Denver, presided and read the opening paper, "A Study of Kepler's Problem." Dr. J. B. Ekeley, professor of chemistry at the University of Colorado, read the paper on "A Revision of Ostwald's Faraday Lecture," and Dr. J. F. Woodhead, professor of physics at the University of Denver, read a paper on "Cost of Electric Power." These papers were of a technical nature.

Western Glaciers.

Prof. Junius Edgerton of the State School of Mines, read a paper telling the evidences of Glacial Action in the West and comparing the effects of ice work in the western part with that in the east. He pointed out the fact that in the east the work of ice was of a continental magnitude, while in the west it has only been [illegible] the mountains. A [illegible] was also read by Prof. Edgerton on the subject of "Mineral Deposits Along the Line of Contact of Igneous Rocks." Prof. Edgerton is a recognized authority on this subject.

Prof. Forbes' Paper.

Prof. [illegible] of Colorado college, read a paper on "Secondary Products in the Geology of the Front Range," describing the lines of country extending from the sandstone ridges of Denver to the New Mexico line. The sedimentary formations were taken up in order and discussed with the features [illegible]

Western Geology.

Prof. [illegible] of the State School of Mines, read a paper telling the evidences of Glacial Action in the West and comparing the effects of ice work in the western part with that in the east. He pointed out the fact that in the east the work of ice was of a continental magnitude, while in the west it has only been [illegible] the mountains. A [illegible] was also read by Prof. Edgerton on the subject of "Mineral Deposits Along the Line of Contact of Igneous Rocks." Prof. Edgerton is a recognized authority on this subject.

Dr. Richter a Guest.

The evening session was a joint meeting with the Pike's Peak Polytechnic society, and was held in Palmer hall. L. A. W. Richter, professor of experimental engineering of the University of Wisconsin, was the guest of honor of the evening. The meeting was given over to a discussion of engineering problems, which proved extremely profitable. Prof. W. A. Strieby, president of the Pike's Peak Polytechnic society, presided.

Prof. W. L. Fulkins of the State School of Mines read a paper on "The Equilibrium of the Three Micropscope Adjustments." He presented a new solution by the method of least squares of the equations necessary for the determination of the [illegible] of the [illegible].

Other Features.

Prof. M. S. Ketchum of the University of Colorado gave an illustrated lecture in Fenge building. The lantern view presented various types of bridges being [illegible] with the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

SPEECHMEN NAMED FOR MODERN WOODMEN CHIEFS

A. P. [illegible]
Candidate for [illegible]

Wednesday was Modern Woodmen day at Colorado [illegible] several hundred members from all parts of the City of Soda [illegible] Arrangements were completed for the [illegible] Modern Woodmen will be held at the corner of Pike[illegible] Wahsatch

The two chief features of the convention's work will be the election of state officers and the election of five delegates to the head camp meeting to be held at Milwaukee during the last two weeks of June. Colorado Springs men are in both races with every sign of success.

The chief officer of the state camp to be elected is state consul, and the friends of A. P. Martin, of the firm of Hinsdale & Martin, are urging his name for the position. Mr. Martin has been active in Modern Woodmen circles in Colorado for a number of years and his friends say that he will be elected to the position with little or no opposition.

Among the candidates who wish to represent Colorado at the head camp meeting at Milwaukee, which will be a national affair, one of those most prominently mentioned is that of O. E. Wescott, of 30 North Pikes street. Mr. Wescott is now district deputy of the state and is one of the best known Modern Woodmen in the state. He has the solid support of the El Paso county delegates and his friends are confident of his election.

The program for Wednesday's meeting of the state camp follows:

9 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. Reception to delegates at Alamo hotel.

10 a. m. to 2 p. m. State camp meeting at Red Men's hall.

1 p. m. to 4 p. m. Banquet at Masonic temple, complimentally to all delegates.

[illegible] p. m. Recreation.

[illegible] p. m. Camp will be open [illegible]

O. E. WESCOTT,
Candidate for Delegate to National Camp.

ELKS AROUND THE MAPLE

UNIQUE FESTIVITIES HAVE BEEN ARRANGED FOR WIVES AND DAUGHTERS ON THURSDAY EVENING.

Beneath the brightly illuminated, Cat-covered dome of the Elks' spacious lodge room next Thursday evening, and to the captivating strains of orchestral music, the members of Colorado Springs lodge No. 309, B. P. O. E., their wives, daughters and sweethearts will gather around a brilliantly decorated Maple to celebrate them of the season's festivities. No wonder, though the jovial crowd has ever spoken of May day that the one which will exemplify the spring time of year took best Thursday evening. As the time for the Elks' social session draws near more will be given. Elaborate preparations in the way of decorations and refreshments are being made and the affair will doubtless be the most enjoyable of any of the Elks' delightful functions.

Just for fun we will give you three stamps instead of one all day Monday and Tuesday if you cut out the coupon on Robbins' big ad.

WRIGHT GETS A STRATTON LEASE

RECEIVES BLOCKS 243 AND 224 FOR THREE YEARS AT 25 PER CENT FLAT ROYALTIES.

J. M. Wright has been granted a lease on blocks 243 and 224 of the Stratton Cripple Creek Mines and Development Company property. The lease is for three years on the basis of a 25 per cent flat royalty, under the same conditions as all the other Stratton properties which were leased several weeks ago.

The lease granted Mr. Wright was the only one on which action was taken at a meeting of the board of directors, which is held at the offices of the company in this city yesterday afternoon. Among the directors present were T. S. Jones of Denver, came to Colorado Springs to attend the meeting, returning on an early afternoon train. The other directors are Dr. D. H. Rice, Carl S. Chambers, R. Wilson Lloyd and Robert Schwartz.

Counsel for Fraternal Order Says Delos F. Powell Was Addicted to Intemperate Use of Liquors and Opiates Contrary to Benefit Rules.

Counsel for the [illegible] of Colorado [illegible] the Brotherhood of American Yeomen [illegible] yesterday filed answer in the district court in the case brought against that fraternal order by Dennie F. Powell to collect $2,000 insurance which he claimed carried in the order.

The answer is interesting, especially to those who are carrying fraternal insurance. The document admits certain portions of the complaint, admits having made a certain agreement to write [illegible] ing on April 27, 1904, [illegible] charged in the complaint, but the defendant denies in its answer alleges that the [illegible] that the said instrument was or is a [illegible] policy of insurance or was ever intended [illegible] to be a policy of insurance upon [illegible] made in the answer, and is therefore [illegible] to defendant.

[illegible] further denies that the defendant ever [illegible] A general [illegible] was also filed [illegible] the plaintiff, to the [illegible] of the sum of $2,000, but simply [illegible] answer.

J. E. WESTAWAY'S CANDIDACY INDORSED BY ASSOCIATION

Unqualified indorsement of the candidacy of J. E. Hemingway for [illegible] was given by the Alumni association of the Colorado Springs High school at a meeting held last evening. The question of the election of a member of the school board of education was discussed at considerable length. The meeting was well attended and many of those present participated in the discussion. In every speech was made the most favorable comment upon the work performed by Mr. Hemingway during his term of office. When the motion was placed before the meeting that it was the sense of the members of the High School Alumni association that they [illegible] this indorsement be given the candidacy of Mr. Hemingway, it was [illegible]

Mr. [illegible] president of the Alumni association, presided at the meeting. Plans were discussed for the [illegible] reception to the graduating class of the High school. It was decided to give the reception on the evening of June 2, the evening prior to the commencement exercises. No decision was made relative to the place where the reception will be given. Miss Johnson appointed the following financial committee: Miss Edna Taylor, treasurer of the association, William G. Lennox, David Mohler and Miss Marjorie Pitman. Miss Johnson will announce the personnel of the committee on arrangements for the reception within a few days. Another meeting of the Alumni association will be held in the near future, for hearing the reports of committees and the discussion of further plans.

He was a member of the University of Michigan football squad while attending that institution, and received his athletic training under "Hurry-Up" Yost, whose pupils everywhere have made brilliant successes.

He graduated from Michigan in 1902, and since the time has been instructor in athletics and athletic director at Centennial High school of Pueblo, where he has achieved signal success. When he left the Pueblo school, the athletic spirit was dead, but in one season he developed a football team that ranked among the best in the state. Last year, his team swept everything before it, winning the state championship in a walk and only losing one game, that to Colorado college.

E. R. JOYCE HONORED BY MASTER PLUMBERS

E. R. Joyce, a well known master plumber of this city, was honored by the association of Master Plumbers of Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming by being elected a member of the executive committee of the association and a delegate to the national convention to be held at Atlantic City, June 5. The other delegates elected at the annual convention were W. T. Hogan of Denver and Charles S. Turner of Boulder. P. E. Burnstead of Colorado Springs, E. M. Lyle of Denver and Charles Geiger of Pueblo were elected alternates.

"STABAT MATER" AT ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH

[illegible] of Gounod's [illegible] Mater" will be given by the choir of St. Stephen's church Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Jessup will preside at the organ. Miss Collais, soprano, Mrs. Henderson, contralto, Mr. Shaw, tenor, Mr. Gambrill and Mr. Sill Jessup will give the vocal music and Mr. Van den Arend will assist with the violin. Everybody is invited to hear this musical treat. An offertory will be taken to defray the expenses.

In Uganda flights of locusts frequently stop the operations of the railroad. According to the correspondent of the London Express when passing a station a dense swarm of locusts closely followed by an enormous flock of hawks was to be seen high up in the sky. The best proof of the havoc that the hawks were working was presented by the disorderly ways of the locusts, which, flattened to the ground like rolling leaves, scurry before that [illegible] The natives [illegible] perfect banks of these destructive pests and was unable to proceed until the locusts were shoveled from the rails.

"THE SOUTHERNER" OPENS AT GARDEN PARK

STRONG COMPANY HEADED BY LIONEL BARRYMORE GAVE FINE PERFORMANCE LAST NIGHT.

Augustus Thomas has written several delightful comedies, but it has been a good many years since he has produced anything equal to "The Southerner," which is being presented at the Garden Park theater this week. It was this play in which Lionel Barrymore was seen at the Opera house last night.

"The Other Girl" is full of scintillating wit and humor from the beginning of the first act to the end of the last. The plot is commonplace enough but there are many delightful situations which, like the rays of a searchlight, bring out at times a rather hackneyed plot that keeps the audience guessing. The lines are bright, the situations are novel and carefully worked out and some of them are absurdly funny.

Dramatic genius is [illegible] in the Barrymore family, as it is [illegible] Lionel has [illegible] star long before the [illegible] He has studied [illegible] to touch the soul before [illegible] had he not been [illegible] by the [illegible] Mr. Sheridan [illegible] of even the most [illegible] type of [illegible] would spoil the [illegible] of his work.

ANOTHER NEW PARK.

[illegible] PALMER seems determined to [illegible] Pikes Peak region [illegible] of the early pioneers [illegible] Colorado Springs [illegible] Palmer Park. [illegible] the summit of Cheyenne Mountain, [illegible] a public park, with a wagon road and bridle path [illegible] to the top where a splendid view of Colorado Springs and [illegible] the surrounding country may be had. From here, too, one may look down into the depths of the canon and command a fine view of the Seven Falls.

The present generation is hardly likely to realize the real value of these beautiful parks and driveways, but a few years, when the city has a much larger population, the need of breathing spots will be greater, and as the population grows the appreciation of their value will increase. We are now far better supplied with parks than many cities of 200,000 or 300,000 people. In the very heart of Colorado Springs, scarcely five minutes' walk from the postoffice, is Monument Valley Park, and in addition to this are several public squares. Within a half hour's drive or ride by street car are Palmer Park, Stratton Park, Cheyenne Canon and the immediate drives leading into the mountains.

Outdoor pursuits play a prominent part in the life of Colorado Springs people and it is well that we have so many places where they can be enjoyed to such good advantage. The city can not have too many parks and driveways for they add immeasurably to the pleasure of life.

CONFIDENCE IN BANK OFFICIALS.

WHEN a minister of the gospel "goes wrong," in any of the various ways in which a man may "go wrong," there is an immediate chorus of "I told you so's" from the people who profess to believe that there are more mean men in the churches than there are out of them. And similarly, when a trusted bank official is found to be an embezzler there are thousands who point to the fact as proof positive of the instability of our financial institutions.

The Bigelow defalcation is an astonishing case of human frailty, and the additional light brought to bear since it was made public only shows up its criminality more glaringly. Nobody is likely to waste sympathy on Bigelow. We may well wonder that a man of his business experience and acumen would so far lose his judgment as to imagine that he or anybody else could successfully run a corner in wheat, and it is even more surprising that he should have risked his reputation, liberty and everything else by using other people's money in the attempt. The most reasonable explanation is that the gambling fever was in his blood and utterly destroyed even his common sense.

But there is nothing in this case to shake public confidence in our banking system; rather it should serve to emphasize the rarity of such occurrences. There are thousands of banks in the country. Every cross-roads town has one or two, every large city has a dozen or a score of them, some carrying millions of dollars of the people's money on deposit. Banking is a peculiar business, demanding of those who engage in it care and conservatism, and the possession of wide business experience. Of course we hear frequently of defalcating bank officials, but when we consider the large number of these institutions and the vast interest involved such cases are comparatively few.

The time probably will never come when it will be impossible for a dishonest official to loot a bank. In the last analysis the public will always have to depend to a large extent on the personal integrity of the men it entrusts its funds to, and the comparative rarity of defalcations shows that on the whole it is not likely to be misplaced seriously.

THE CHINESE AWAKENING.

A FEW days ago it was announced in a dispatch from Peking that through the efforts of Mr. Wu Tingfang, former Chinese minister to the United States, the Empress had issued an edict materially changing the manner of administering capital punishment. Decapitation is substituted for slicing to death and branding and the exposure to view of the heads and bodies of executed criminals are abolished. Immediately upon the publication of the foregoing edict, which was issued on the 14th of March, the Peking correspondent of the London Times cabled to his paper that the edict would probably result in annual the death penalty.

Some of Mr. Wu's reforms are criminal. He referred to the "use of opium as the most important item in China's revenue," and the Empress has ordered that the [illegible] the throne regardless of other [illegible] China.

Some investigating searchers after curious information has discovered that the average New Yorker opens and closes his eyes 4,000,000 times a year. Of course this is only an average, for drugstore flowers the number runs much higher.

Of course, when that twenty-five thousand dollar breach of promise suit against an ossified man comes to trial in Philadelphia there will be a great rattling of dry bones and family skeletons.

The astrologer who predicts that New York City will be destroyed this year by an earthquake must have observed the shaking of Wall street caused by the Equitable squabble.

The finest shot that John D. Rockefeller has yet received was delivered by his friend, H. H. Rogers, when he said: "Mr. Rockefeller is just as nice a man as I am."

There is no doubt now that Grover Cleveland is out of politics. Otherwise he wouldn't have dared to write that magazine article denouncing women's clubs.

The New Jersey woman who wants the court to help her get rid of a servant might try the plan of shooting the servant and then appealing to the court.

NEWTON ANNEX MILL HAS BEEN STARTED ON GENUINE ORES

New Model Plant Patterned After Homestake Mill Has Capacity of 250 Tons in 24 Hours---Combines Best Features of Concentrating Machinery.

IDAHO SPRINGS, Colo., April 29.—The Newton annex mill, one of the wonders of this section of Colorado, has been started and its full capacity of 250 tons every 24 hours will be kept employed all the time from the ores from the Newton mine. The mill is situated on the property of the Newton mine, and is owned by the Newton Mining company, which is composed of Denver men. The mill is a model of its kind, and is patterned after the Homestake mill at Lead, S. D. It is equipped with the most modern machinery, and has a full system of hydraulic sizers, classifying and settling tanks. The pulverizing is done by a battery of 5 1,000-pound Nipissing drop stamps.

The other section of the mill, which will be used for the concentration of ores which will run from eight to twelve tons to the ton, is equipped with 10 concentrating stamps weighing 900 pounds each, and three sets of Wilfley tables and slimers. Another section consists of 40 slick-line stamps, and has a complete equipment for amalgamation and can be used advantageously on some of the ore now being extracted by the company.

It is confidently expected that the producing mine, the Penn mine, will be reached from the Newton mine within a few months. Extensive workings are now being made on the Newton mine level, the ore bodies being found to be of large size and of good grade. As at present the mill is kept running almost entirely upon ores from the Newton and Mary Murphy.—Daily Mining Record.

GETTING 600 ASPEN LINE NEAR SILVERTON READY TO OPERATE

Was Formerly a Great Producer of Low Grade Ore---Mammoth Tunnel Now Penetrates Mountain 1,200 Feet. Difficulties of Silver Ledge Co. May Be Settled.

SILVERTON, Colo., April 30.—Under the personal management of Superintendent J. O. Campbell, the work of clearing the tunnels of the old Aspen property of accumulated debris and getting the mine into shape for extensive production is being pushed with all possible speed and early summer will see this property once more in front in production and sending ores to the Silver Lake mill for treatment, great quantities of low grade ore immense bodies of which are already exposed ready for breaking in the workings of the mine. When the Aspen was one of the greatest producers in the entire San Juan country, for a number of years past the property has only been intermittently worked by lessees. The mine is one of the best possessions of the Chapin Mining exploration company in this district, and it is the intention of the company to push production on the property to its extreme limit. The product of the mine is low grade, a lead-copper ore with small values in gold and silver. The Silver Lake mill has been thoroughly overhauled and is now in condition to handle ore with excellent results and with facilities for handling a much larger tonnage than has been treated at any time since the mill was built. It is the intention of the company to operate on a large scale, and the Chapin interests are said to be in position to handle the output of the Aspen and other properties which they have in this section. The Aspen is a group of [illegible] claims, located on the south fork of Cement creek, about ten miles from Silverton. The ore deposits occur in a fissure vein, which has been traced for a distance of 3,000 feet on the surface. The ore is a galena carrying gold and silver values, and is said to be of high grade. The ore is mined from a tunnel which has been driven into the mountain for a distance of 1,200 feet, and which will tap the vein at a depth of 1,000 feet below the surface. The ore is hauled from the mine to the mill by means of a tramway. The mill is equipped with a Wilfley concentrator, and has a capacity of 250 tons per day. The ore is treated by concentration and the product is shipped to the smelters at Pueblo.—Denver Republican.

NEW COMPANY WILL OPERATE BREECE HILL PROPERTY WHICH HAS BEEN IN LITIGATION.

LIBERAL EXPENDITURE OF MONEY CONVERTS ABANDONED MINE INTO VALUABLE PROPOSITION.

[illegible] April 30.—The Golden Cloud company, [illegible] from the Breece Hill group, [illegible] and four and [illegible] ores [illegible] of the best grade. The ore has a marked similarity to that produced from the Old Bonanza and from the Saratoga. The operations of the past two years [illegible] the Golden Cloud have redeemed [illegible] the first rank [illegible] of gold ore mines. It is safe to say that the mine is worth four times its value two years ago and that every dollar spent in prospecting and development is returned fourfold in the present market value or producing property of the mine. The consensus of expert opinion places the Golden Cloud in good rank with the valuable mining properties of the district. The ore above the second tunnel has been opened extensively and good ground worked out [illegible] large reserves of ore have been developed. The [illegible] level to the south has carried a [illegible] and gash vein [illegible] and [illegible] found in the mine is running [illegible] the south level.—Idaho Springs Advance-Gazette.
